

We really are our own worst enemies...

Not to be disrespectful, but many of us, as the people, make it very difficult to counter these abundant lies and delusional notions with the simple truth.

The Creator would seem to welcome those who are truly capable of understanding...the truth is simple and the truth is uncomplicated.

Those who truly understand are welcome to explore the reality created by the Creator. And, at the same time, they are equally welcome to explore any other reality, of which there are many.

Each sovereign, exercising their individual most precious unalienable gift..."freedom of choice," is free to make their own choices.

Those of us who engaged the Creator on a direct relationship, have come to know and understand how the creator is...

He is that he is...He is the Creator.

Without any fanfare and special attention, the Creator provides his creations, the people of earth, with the gift of life; the unalienable rights to make our own choices; and to determine in our own minds and conscience, what is right and what is wrong.

As the great sovereign of the universe, he seems to display incredible faith and confidence in his creations. To demonstrate his faith in us:

- he leaves the responsibility to we the people, the earthy sovereigns he has created in his own image, to make their own way.
- He plays the role of a constructive, supportive mentor, characterized with an incredible degree of patience and restraint.
- It is this amazing grace that leads me to conclude he helps those who help themselves.

As he seems to do with all other wild things in nature, only those who are capable of accepting life and its responsibilities on their own terms, achieve the joys of self determination and self actualization.

Understandably, there are many who have failed to recognize the full extent of this gift of life. It is truly regrettable and sad to see such unnecessary pain and suffering, inflicted upon the people by members of our own society.

Trusted members of our society, who have embarked on a life of exploitation by taking advantage of those with a lesser degree of understanding.

Those engaged in these criminal endeavors, do so because they can; not because they should. Those who the people have rewarded with positions of trust know better. They are expected by our society, to act as responsible stewards of our community and assist those of lesser opportunity.

But it seems that due to their lack of understanding, the struggle of the people, has been brought upon ourselves. Due to a lack of respect and appreciation for the sheer brilliance and generosity of the Creator...many continue to live in ignorance.

They live in the ignorance of the existence of such an incredibly encouraging force-for-good---A force-for-good which exists in a universe---which knows no bounds or limitations, that they remain within the turbulence of despair.

Witnessing the actions of the creator, first-hand, they can be summarized as follows:

- A force-for-good which issues no threats
- A force-for-good which makes no demands
- A force-for-good which makes no promises
- A force-for-good which offers no guarantees

A force, for the good, that expects nothing in return. A force for the good which would seem to thrive on the satisfaction that his creations, through their own efforts and success, experience happiness and well-being.

One can only imagine of what greater reward can be experienced by the Creator, than when his Earthly Creations display a reverence for honor, respect and the acceptance of only the truth.

For it is also well understood by such Earthly Creations, who have been so graciously endowed with the wisdom of the Creator, that living a good life...an honorable life, is in itself its own reward.

And the truth shall set you free—

If this makes sense to you, then thank the Creator, for it would appear these are his words...not mine. I am just an old man who knows nothing...in his service.

Yes..I admit to being the biggest fool...
