Dear Mr. Fotis,

Many Americans, me included, commend what you are doing for those who honorably serve the American people. I can’t tell you how committed I am to my fellow Americans who do the right thing just because we are Americans.

But Mr. Fotis, there are conflicting problems with which we as Americans are confronted every day. Things which are so confusing they leave us to question who exactly are the honorable Americans? The link below explains more:

Americans in uniform...true Americans honor you every day!

Now in my own home town, Fountain Valley, California, things appear to be as one would expect of an American city; a bedroom community of about 50,000. And to demonstrate the advanced thinking of the city council, they have caused to be created a relatively new website that reveals a level of transparency, openness and cooperation extended to residents heretofore unseen.

In that light...our police chief provided the following impressive message:

So I took advantage of the invitation to address some serious criminal matters that many Americans confuse with politics...and was so greeted...

Do you think it might have been something I said?

I hasten to add that previously, I had been in contact with city officials via email.

Can you understand my confusion as to how to best support our own city, county and state peace keepers and first responders?

arnie, just one of the people.

NOTICE: OFFICERS IN NEED OF YOUR SUPPORT

Dear Arnie,

Every day, our nation's law enforcement officers leave their homes and their families to go and risk their lives to keep us safe.

Have you said thank you? You can show your appreciation by having their backs (more on that below).

Every day, neither they nor their families know for certain if they'll return home at the end of the day... and, tragically, some officers don't.

As if that weren't enough of a burden to bear, the liberal media and a rapidly growing portion of our nation has taken to demonizing law enforcement officers and victimizing criminals.

Far too many officers have been killed or put on trial for doing their extremely tough and thankless jobs.

I founded the National Center for Police Defense as a 501c3 organization with the purpose of standing with our officers in their times of need when no one else will.

We provide hundreds of thousands of dollars to aid officers and their families through your generous support, which -- as a 100% volunteer organization -- we rely upon greatly.

Today, I would like to present you with a unique opportunity to give back to these officers who, each and every day, give all that they have for you.

For a simple donation of $25 or $50, or even a more generous amount of $75 or $100, you can become a member of the National Center for Police Defense and a savior to our men and women in blue.

Things about which you did not dare think-
Through generous support from concerned citizens like you, Arnie, we have already been able to give hundreds of thousands of dollars to support officers in need.

These include retired Sheriff Joe Arpaio of Maricopa County, Arizona who is being charged in federal court for upholding the law during his time in office.

Or Officer Betty Shelby of Tulsa, Oklahoma who is being harassed by the media and could be sent to jail for firing a shot to defend her own life.

There is also Officer Darren Wilson of Ferguson, Missouri who, along with his family, has received multiple death threats and can never work as a police officer again for also firing a shot in self defense.

And not least is the family of slain Sacramento County Sheriff's Deputy Danny Oliver, who carry on his legacy through a foundation that works to build better relationships in their community.

But the sad truth is, there are countless more officers who need our support -- your support.

And with just $25 or more today you can make an immeasurable impact on the lives of these men and women who work to keep us safe.

Please don't delay.

Become a 2017 Member of the National Center for Police Defense today and show your support for our officers in need with a generous, 100% tax-deductible donation of $25 today.

Sincerely,

Jim Fotis, President
National Center for Police Defense
