About Congress

Through legislative debate and compromise, the U.S. Congress makes laws that influence our daily lives. It holds hearings to inform the legislative process, conducts investigations to oversee the executive branch, and serves as the voice of the people and the states in the federal government.

What Congress Does

Congress is the legislative branch of the federal government that represents the American people and makes the nation's laws. It shares power with the executive branch, led by the president, and the judicial branch, whose highest body is the Supreme Court of the United States. Of the three branches of government, Congress is the only one elected directly by the people.

Article I—the longest article of the Constitution—describes congressional powers. Congress has the power to:

- Make laws
- Declare war
- Raise and provide public money and oversee its proper expenditure
- Impeach and try federal officers
- Approve presidential appointments
- Approve treaties negotiated by the executive branch
- Oversight and investigations

Two Bodies, One Branch:

All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

— The Constitution, Article I Section 1 - The Legislature

Congress is divided into two institutions: the House of Representatives and the Senate. The two houses of Congress have equal but unique roles in the federal government. While they share legislative responsibilities, each house also has special constitutional duties and powers.
My Dear Congressman,

Thank you for responding to my 9 page (not 7) e-mail which begins with 20 issues (not 25) about which I requested a response. The first 5 items were enumerations of clarification. Perhaps had you actually read this letter I suspect you would have better understood the context of my document. Please find listed below the issues which you had mistakenly interpreted.

- This is not about legally acceptable politics
- This is not about normal partisanship
- This is not about race
- This is not about religion
- This is not about the normally acceptable law making process

1. This is about abuse of the public trust
2. This is about the unabashed violation of the rule of law
3. This is about unprecedented violations of the Constitution
4. This is about the violation of my civil rights
5. This is about the violation of my right to free speech
6. This is about you and other members of the 111th Congress permitting the fraudulent certification of Barack Obama as president
7. This is about using public assets to bribe legislators in exchange for partisan favors
8. This is about recklessly illegally committing all American citizens to future financial obligations
9. This is about permitting Obama from making treaties without the advise and consent of Congress
10. This is about Congress refusing to heed our grievances and to abide by the will of the people
11. This is about denigrating our military hero’s
12. This is about taxation without representation.
13. This is about Congress authorizing their own pay increases
14. This is about Congress authorizing their separate healthcare plan
15. This is about Congress not participating in Social Security and authorizing their own retirement program
16. This is about false and misleading statements made by government representatives
17. This is about your failure to properly represent my interests as your constituent
18. This is about how you and every member of the 111th Congress permitted gross abuse of the legal system
19. This is about you and every member of the 111th congress is guilty of dereliction of duty
20. This is about your violation to uphold your oath of office to protect and defend the constitution of the United States.
My incompetence is so obvious I must once more apologize. Please accept my error in judgement for giving you more credit than deserved for possessing the intellectual capacity to absorb and assimilate the complex nature of the information presented. From your response I can appreciate why you felt the content may have appeared disjointed.

Due to the depth and the extent of the deceit and betrayal of the American people by this Congress, I must again apologize for my inability to comply with your request for simplicity. The conduct of this Congress is so onerous these questions it is not within my ability to phrase them in any simpler format.

But hey, Congressman, we did not just fall off a tomato truck....as a professional politician, one could hardly expect you to willingly wade-in to address the mass of incriminating charges presented in a responsible manner. After all since it appears you and your colleagues have no compunctions about violating the Constitution, why should you be expected to address issues of concern of a mere constituent. albeit, one of those pesky individuals mentioned in the first few lines of the Constitution as the source of all authority for this government.

The very government, I might add, in which you are now actively participating. A government I might add, we the people as the grantors of the authority, have entrusted to you and the rest of the members of this Congress to properly manage, within the context of the Constitution. A mission at which, I might also add, the entire body has failed miserably.

While it was my intent to express my anger, it was more important for you to understand the disappointment and the disdain with which I hold for you and your cohorts for the betrayal of the American people’s trust. As evidence, your collective trail of abuses and other documented criminal behavior is clearly recorded and verified in the Congressional record.

One simply has to listen to the recent speech given in the “People’s House” March 21, 2010, by Mr. John Boehner (http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pOdvn2dtM0A) who so elegantly detailed the many failures of this body, and thereby confirmed in his speech, your voluntary participation in “the shattering” of the bonds of the public trust. Mind you Congressman...these are not my charges, these are public admissions, (a matter of public record) from one of those who speaks with authority. A highly respected and honorable member of the 111th Congress itself.

But there is more, within the content of Mr. Boehner’s speech he also elaborated on the failure of the entire Chamber regarding the following items listed above:

1. This is about abuse of the public trust
7. This is about using public assets to bribe legislators in exchange for partisan favors
8. This is about recklessly illegally committing all American citizens to future financial obligations
16. This is about false and misleading statements made by government representatives
10. This is about Congress refusing to heed our grievances and to abide by the will of the people
12. This is about taxation without representation.
17. This is about your failure to properly represent my interests as your constituent
18. This is about how you and every member of the 111th Congress permitted gross abuse of the legal system
19. This is about you and every member of the 111th congress is guilty of dereliction of duty
20. This is about your violation to uphold your oath of office to protect and defend the constitution of the United States.

Good news Congressman Rohrabacher, responding to this one issue will address not simply 2 or 3 questions as you requested but 10 of the issues all at the same time. So let's count this as question 1. Please note this is a question Congressmen. I would appreciate your response to the question:

Simply explain on what basis and on what authority did you and the members of the 11th Congress violate the following

It appears you missed the whole point of my effort to put you and the rest of the members of the 111th Congress on notice that your illegal and unconstitutional actions as defined by the job description presented on the government website displayed above have been duly noted and recorded.

Every member of the Legislature, the Executive, and the Judiciary swears allegiance to the Constitution, and every act they do is under the Authority Granted by the Constitution.

Notwithstanding the fact that the CRS (Congressional Research Services), a government sponsored and taxpayer funded ‘think-tank’ for Congress told everyone in Congress that Mr. Soetoro/Obama met the Article II ‘natural-born’ requirements for President, and;

Given the fact that all 535 members of Congress were informed by the hundreds of thousands of emails, letters, and internet websites that:

1. One of California’s electors for the DNC ‘ticket’ had been dead for 6 years, but they counted her vote anyway;

2. There were demands from the people even before the DNC nominated Mr. Soetoro/Obama to be on the ballot in all 50 states that he (and they) prove that he was eligible per Article II, Section 8 of the Constitution;
3. It is Public and Common Knowledge that to be ‘natural-born’, BOTH parents (if married) must be US. Citizens, and we know that his father, from their divorce papers, was not;

Therefore, given the foregoing, and the fact that removing the Usurper would immediately stop the Obamination of the Socialized Drug Care bill they are trying to ram down our throats, my two questions are:

1. Why didn’t you, or any of the other 535 members of Congress, OBJECT to the counting of electoral votes for Mr. Soetoro/Obama on January 8th, 2009 – until he could PROVE that he was Constitutionally eligible?
