Well allow me to express an opinion to that matter.

The role of the Bankers...

government agencies to provide funding based on hypothecation of assets which do not lawfully belong to the agencies which operate in fraud and deception."

Starting a session of Monopoly

Consider the following...

When we enter our current society, by what ever means we arrive...we are essentially opening a session of the game provided us, courtesy of the impostors claiming to run our legitimate government...which currently does not lawfully exist.

Those familiar with this game will expect the "bank" to issue each player the funds by which to interact with the other players.

But stop right there for a moment...

Have you ever asked yourself, from where does the bank get the money to issue to each player? Well the truth is...there is none. It is only a representation of money. Just like the money we as the American people have been using since the implementation of the fraudulent Federal Reserve, instituted in fraud, just like obamacare, by the impostors pretending to be your lawfully elected, in good faith members of what you still believe is your legitimate Congress.

And from where did the money come from to fund the equally fraudulent Federal Reserve...

I am just speculating here but think about the implications of the following:

Yes Mr. Trump—Shut down the “government.”

That will kill the source of the fraudulent funding to the beast and end the fraud and deception...

But even more importantly it will END the TREASON against the American people.

Shut down the banker’s control over the IMPOSTORS pretending to act as our legitimate Congress.

“We the People,” Revoke the Delegated Authority of the de facto Congress!

Rohrabacher Termination – Revocation of delegated authority.

And just whom do you expect to enforce the law on these impostors? Surely they have already committed so many crimes against the people, at this point, how might this all end if they just apologized, made their apologies and resigned?

for whom are they working?

From where comes their paychecks?

The federal corporation is already in receivership...(or so we are told...) but we are and have been led to believe a lot of things...and I also suspect none of what we have been told is true.

So all of the funds on which they operate, I suspect comes from requisitions of the Treasury to something like Goldman Sachs, who then takes their 10%, deposits the rest of the monopoly points known as fiat money, in the form of digital representations, in the government checking accounts. Which from there ends up as direct deposits into the recipients checking accounts and no one is the wiser. Nothing but digital representations (points) has physically changed hands).

Of course I also suspect the other side of the ledger goes onto the national debt so who, is it who is directly accountable?
